MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

(Unaudited)

The following discussion summarizes the financial position and results of operations of Farm Credit of Western Oklahoma, ACA (the Association) for the six months ended June 30, 2024, with comparisons to prior periods. You should read these comments along with the accompanying financial statements and footnotes and the 2023 Annual Report to Shareholders. The accompanying financial statements were prepared under the oversight of our Audit Committee.

Loan demand has been strong during the first half of 2024. Cattle prices have remained strong in 2024, while grain commodity prices have noted a downward trend during the period. Farm input costs remain high. Overall, the agricultural industry remains strong with opportunities for our customers to experience solid financial results. Many operators are diversified to protect from individual commodity losses. Borrowers also take advantage of price protection and insurance available for their operations to further protect against unforeseen loss. The uncertainty of continued strength in the value of agricultural real estate is an economic concern, but average real estate values in Oklahoma remain strong.

The growth of the U.S. economy has gradually softened through the first half of 2024 primarily due to continued elevated inflation and high interest rates. Upward trends for Gross Domestic Product (GDP) and consumer spending have also slowed as a result, but generally remained strong. The Federal Reserve announced at its June 2024 meeting that rates would remain steady at the current range of 5.25% - 5.50% with implications of fewer rate cuts this year than previously anticipated. After recording strong growth for the past two years, net cash farm income is projected to decline by 24.1% in 2024 according to the USDA forecast report in February. This decrease is primarily driven by high farming expenses, lower direct government payments, and weakening commodity prices. Global conflicts have continued to put additional pressures on commodity prices, contributing to volatility and uncertainty in the markets.

Our Association continues to analyze the material effects of transition risks related to climate change that may affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations. These risks include policy and regulatory changes that could impose operational and compliance burdens, market trends that may alter business opportunities, credit risks, litigation risks, and technological changes. Agricultural producers continue to adjust to changing climate conditions and have implemented additional practices of no-till planting, minimal till practices, cover crops, and other water conservation techniques to manage reduced amounts of rainfall and to keep their farmland in a state of sustainable production. Currently, we are not aware of any specific material impacts on our business, results of operations, or financial conditions from the effects of climate change transition risks.

LOAN PORTFOLIO

Loans outstanding at June 30, 2024, totaled $1.85 billion, an increase of $72.9 million, or 4.10%, from loans of $1.78 billion at December 31, 2023. The increase was primarily due to growth in real estate mortgage loan volume.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Net income for the six months ended June 30, 2024, was $16.0 million, an increase of $3.6 million, or 29.38%, from the same period ended one year ago. The increase was primarily due to an increase in net interest income and noninterest income as well as a decrease in noninterest expense.

Net interest income for the six months ended June 30, 2024, was $26.8 million, an increase of $2.9 million, or 11.92%, compared with the six months ended June 30, 2023. Net interest income increased primarily as a result of loan volume growth and additional earnings from equity positioning.

The provision for credit losses for the six months ended June 30, 2024, was $146 thousand, compared with a credit loss reversal of $177 thousand for the same period ended one year ago. The provision for credit losses was recorded as a result of increases in our Association's loan volume and changes to the risk portfolio.

Noninterest income increased $862 thousand during the first six months of 2024 compared with the first six months of 2023 primarily due to a $500 thousand refund from Farm Credit System Insurance Corporation (FCSIC). There was no refund received in 2023. The refund is our portion of excess funds above the secure base amount in the FCSIC Allocated Insurance Reserve Accounts. Refer to the 2023 Annual Report to Shareholders for additional information. Additionally, patronage distribution from Farm Credit institutions increased $406 thousand in the six months ended June 30, 2024, compared with the first six months in 2023 primarily due to increased patronage from CoBank related to our direct note payable with CoBank.

Mineral income of $410 thousand was recognized during the first six months of 2024. Of this amount, $403 thousand was received from CoBank. The decrease for the six months ended June 30, 2024, compared with the first six months of 2023 is due to lower oil and gas commodity prices paid on production.

During the first six months of 2024, noninterest expense decreased $238 thousand to $15.6 million primarily due to a decrease in public and member relations expense. Farm Credit System Insurance Corporation (FCSIC) premiums decreased for the six months ended June 30, 2024, compared with the same period in 2023 due to a decrease in the insurance premium accrual assessment rate on Systemwide adjusted insured debt from 18 basis points to 10 basis points. These decreases are partially offset by increases in salary and benefit expense and purchased services from AgVantis.

CAPITAL RESOURCES

Our shareholders' equity at June 30, 2024, was $344.7 million, an increase from $328.5 million at December 31, 2023. This increase is due to net income, the amortization of pension costs included in the net periodic benefit cost, and net stock issuances.

These unaudited second quarter 2024 financial statements should be read in conjunction with the 2023 Annual Report to Shareholders.

The accompanying unaudited financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the U.S. (GAAP) for interim financial information. Accordingly, they do not include all of the disclosures required by GAAP for annual financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2023, as contained in the 2023 Annual Report to Shareholders.

In the opinion of management, all adjustments, consisting of normal recurring adjustments necessary for a fair statement of results for the interim periods, have been made. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Recently Adopted or Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In December 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2023-09 – Income Taxes: Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures. The amendments in this standard require more transparency about income tax information through improvements to income tax disclosures primarily related to the rate reconciliation and income taxes paid information. The amendments require qualitative disclosure about specific categories of reconciling items and individual jurisdictions that result in a significant difference between the statutory tax rate and the effective tax rate. The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2024. The adoption of this guidance is not expected to have a material impact on the Association's financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows.

Credit Quality

Credit risk arises from the potential inability of an obligor to meet its payment obligation and exists in our outstanding loans, letters of credit, and unfunded loan commitments. The Association manages credit risk associated with the retail lending activities through an analysis of the credit risk profile of an individual borrower using its own set of underwriting standards and lending policies, approved by its board of directors, which provides direction to its loan officers. The retail credit risk management process begins with an analysis of the borrower's credit history, repayment capacity, financial position, and collateral, which includes an analysis of credit scores for smaller loans. Repayment capacity focuses on the borrower's ability to repay the loan based on cash flows from operations or other sources of income, including off-farm income. Real estate mortgage loans must be secured by first liens on the real estate (collateral). As required by Farm Credit Administration regulations, each institution that makes loans on a secured basis must have collateral evaluation policies and procedures. Real estate mortgage loans may be made only in amounts up to 85% of the original appraised value of the property taken as security or up to 97% of the appraised value if guaranteed by a state, federal, or other governmental agency. The actual loan to appraised value when loans are made is generally lower than the statutory maximum percentage. Loans other than real estate mortgage may be made on a secured or unsecured basis.

The Association uses a two-dimensional risk rating model based on an internally generated combined System risk rating guidance that incorporates a 14-point probability of default rating scale to identify and track the probability of borrower default and a separate scale addressing loss given default. Probability of default is the probability that a borrower will experience a default during the life of the loan. The loss given default is management's estimate as to the anticipated principal loss on a specific loan assuming default occurs during the remaining life of the loan. A default is considered to have occurred if the lender believes the borrower will not be able to pay its obligation in full or the borrower or the loan is classified nonaccrual. This credit risk rating process incorporates objective and subjective criteria to identify inherent strengths, weaknesses, and risks in a particular relationship. The institution reviews, at least on an annual basis, or when a credit action is taken, the probability of default category.

Each of the probability of default categories carries a distinct percentage of default probability. The probability of default rate between one and nine of the acceptable categories is very narrow and would reflect almost no default to a minimal default percentage. The probability of default rate grows more rapidly as a loan moves from acceptable to other assets especially mentioned and grows significantly as a loan moves to a substandard (viable) level. A substandard (non-viable) rating indicates that the probability of default is almost certain. These categories are defined as follows:

- Acceptable – assets are expected to be fully collectible and represent the highest quality.
- Other assets especially mentioned (OAEM) – assets are currently collectible but exhibit some potential weakness.
- Substandard – assets exhibit some serious weakness in repayment capacity, equity, and/or collateral pledged on the loan.
- Doubtful – assets exhibit similar weaknesses to substandard assets; however, doubtful assets have additional weaknesses in existing factors, conditions, and values that make collection in full highly questionable.
- Loss – assets are considered uncollectible.

Allowance for Credit Losses

The allowance for credit losses (ACL) represents the estimated current expected credit losses over the remaining contractual life of the loans measured at amortized cost and certain off-balance sheet credit exposures. The ACL takes into consideration relevant information about past events, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable macroeconomic forecasts of future conditions. The contractual term excludes expected extensions, renewals, and modifications. The Association uses a single economic scenario over a reasonable and supportable forecast period of 12 months. Subsequent to the forecast period, the Association explicitly reverts to long run historical loss experience beyond the 12 months to inform the estimate of losses for the remaining contractual life of the loan portfolio. The economic forecasts are updated on a quarterly basis and incorporate macroeconomic variables such as agricultural commodity prices, unemployment rates, Gross Domestic Product (GDP) annual growth rates, government spending to GDP, real consumer spending, United States exports, inflation, and Fed Funds rates.

The credit risk rating methodology is a key component of the Association’s allowance for credit losses evaluation and is generally incorporated into the Association’s loan underwriting standards and internal lending limits. In addition, borrower and commodity concentration lending and leasing limits have been established by the Association to manage credit exposure. The regulatory limit to a single borrower or lessee is 15% of the Association’s lending and leasing limit base but the Association’s board of directors has generally established more restrictive lending limits. This limit applies to Associations with long-term and short- and intermediate-term lending authorities.

NOTE 4 - FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

Accounting guidance defines fair value as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability. See Note 2 of the 2023 Annual Report to Shareholders for a more complete description.

Assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis are summarized below:

	Fair Value Measurement Using			Total Fair Value
(dollars in thousands)	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3
Assets held in nonqualified benefits trusts
June 30, 2024	$ 2,509	$ -	$ -	$ 2,509
December 31, 2023	$ 2,443	$ -	$ -	$ 2,443

The Association had no liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis at June 30, 2024 or December 31, 2023.

Assets measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis for each of the fair value hierarchy values are summarized below:

	Fair Value Measurement Using			Total Fair Value
(dollars in thousands)	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3
Loans
June 30, 2024	**$ -	**$ -	**$ -	**$ -
December 31, 2023	$ -	$ -	$ 1,034	$ 1,034

With regard to impaired loans and other property owned, it is not practicable to provide specific information on inputs as each collateral property is unique. System institutions utilize appraisals to value these loans and other property owned and takes into account unobservable inputs such as income and expense, comparable sales, replacement cost, and comparability adjustments.

The Association had no liabilities measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis at June 30, 2024 or December 31, 2023.

Valuation Techniques

As more fully discussed in Note 2 of the 2023 Annual Report to Shareholders, accounting guidance establishes a fair value hierarchy, which requires an Association to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The following presents a brief summary of the valuation techniques used by the Association for assets and liabilities, subject to fair value measurement.

Assets Held in Non-Qualified Benefits Trusts

Assets held in trust funds related to deferred compensation and supplemental retirement plans are classified within Level 1. The trust funds include investments that are actively traded and have quoted net asset values that are observable in the marketplace.

Loans Evaluated for Impairment

For impaired loans measured on a non-recurring basis, the fair value is based upon the underlying collateral since the loans are collateral dependent loans. The fair value measurement process uses independent appraisals and other market-based information, but in many cases, it also requires significant input based on management's knowledge of and judgment about current market conditions, specific issues relating to the collateral, and other matters. As a result, these fair value measurements fall within Level 3 of the hierarchy. When the value of the collateral, less estimated costs to sell, is less than the principal balance of the loan, a specific reserve is established.

NOTE 5 - SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Association has evaluated subsequent events through August 6, 2024, which is the date the financial statements were issued, and no material subsequent events were identified.
